WAR LABOR BOARD HOPES TO SETTLE EASTERN STRIKE

Authority Given to Reopen Case of Paper Mill Employes

WASHINGTON, July 25.—The controversy between the International Paper company and some 4,000 employes in paper mills in New York, New Hampshire and Maine was referred today by the War Labor board to a section composed of C. A. Crocker and T. M. Guerin. It was recommended that the section interpret the recent award of the board, disagreement over the application of which led to the strike.

Authority also was given the section to re-open the case and hold further hearings if that is deemed necessary but no rehearing will be granted until all the men now on strike return to work.

Representatives of both the company and the union were called before the board to explain their differences which resulted in the closing down of ten mills and a consequent curtailment of about 15 percent in the production of newsprint paper. Both sides were agreed that inability of their committees to agree on the working out of the award presented the greatest difficulty and they joined in the request for an interpretation.

After hearing the explanation the board adopted this resolution which was presented by former President Taft one of the joint chairman of the board:

"The representatives of the paper makers and of the employes having appeared before the board with the statement that the award heretofore made by the board has presented questions upon which the parties affected do not agree because they differ as to the interpretation of the terms of the award, it is voted that the subject be referred back to the section, whose action this board approves, for the purpose of hearing the application for an interpretation of the award. That the section also has power, if in its opinion a case is presented to grant such re-hearings as it may deem just and wise on the ground of mistake or otherwise in any of the issues involved and disposed of in the award but that such a grant of rehearing shall not be made except on condition that all men ceasing labor shall return to their employment before such hearing is granted."

Mr. Crocker and Mr. Guerin who conducted the original hearing in the controversy directed both the company and the men to present briefs tomorrow after which decision will be reached on the question of re-opening the whole case and arriving at a new award.

Information before the board was that mills of the International Paper company are shutdown at Glens Falls, Fort Edward, Parmer and Ticonderoga in New York state; Wilder, Vermont, and Franklin, in New Hampshire and Rumford and Livermore Falls, in Maine. One other mill, operated by Finch, Pruyn and Co., at Glens Falls, also is tied up.

J. T. Carey of Albany, N. Y., president of the International Paper Makers' Union, told the board the men had walked out despite the fact that he had advised against such a course. He said an important part of the dispute is whether the men shall receive for May and June the bonus paid by the International company before the board's award went into effect. The company, he said, declined to pay the bonus for those two months by the board's award is retroactive for that period.

WHITE STAR LINER SUNK OFF IRISH COAST

LONDON, July 25.—The White Star Liner Justicia which was sunk off the north coast of Ireland on Saturday by German submarines, was attacked when, with other ships she was being escorted by destroyers and other craft, the British admiralty announced tonight.

The admiralty's announcement says that fifteen of the Justicia's engine room staff are missing as a result of the first explosion but that the remainder of the officers and crew of the vessel were saved. The submarine which previously was reported as having been sunk by hte British torpedo boat destroyer Marne was one of those endeavoring to get into position to attack the Justicia says the admiralty statement.

Sunday Villa with 400 men raided Jiminez, robbed two passenger trains and killed a number of guards. Unusual activity is reported from Ojinaga and federal reinforcements and munitions are being rushed there from Juarez.

"Two hostile airplanes have been downed."

PARIS, July 25.—Franco-American troops today made an advance of nearly two miles at certain points on the Aisne-Marne front, notably in the Dormans region says the war office announcement tonight. Additional gains are recorded, showing that the progress of the Allies in this salient is steadily going on.

The text of the statement reads:

"On the Durcq front the fighting today met with some success as on preceding days.

"North of the river we occupy Oulchy-la-Ville. South of the river Franco-American troops made an advance which reached three kilometers at certain points notably in the region of Dormans.

"Southeast of Armentieres we occupy Hill 141 and have crossed the Nanteuil stream. Further to the south we captured the village of Coincy and the greater part of Tournele Wood. We extended our progress in the forest of Fere as far as the general line of Beauvardes le Charmel.

"Our advance continued under favorable condtiions in the Res forest and north of Dormans.

"Southwest of Rheims the enemy continued his violent attacks against our positions near vrigny and succeeded in gaining a foothold on Hill 240. Our troops soon reconquered this height, taking about 100 prisoners.

"Aviation: On July 24, Franco-British airmpen brought down nine German machines and set fire to three captive balloons. Our bombing machines carried out numerous expeditions behind the battle zone. The station and depots at Amiefotaine the stations and railroads at Bazoches, Courlandon, Fismes and Cugnicourt were copiously bombed. A total of thirty tons of projectiles was used with good results. Fires and heavy explosions were observed at Courlandon and Fismes.

"Eastern theater, July 24: The artillery activity was quiet marked on the Doiran front and in the region of Kopa; it was less intense on the rest of the front. Allied aviators bombed enemy establishments in the region of Mourgas, north of Monastir, and at Demir-Hissar.

BERLIN, July 25.—The evening report from general headquarters says:

"There have been vigorous local actions between Soissons and Rheims.'

BOHEMIAN TESTIFIES IN I. W. W. TRIAL

CHICAGO, July 25. — T. R. Green, a native of Bohemia and a member of the I. W. W., since 1910, testified regarding a loggers' strike in protest against conscription last year when called as a witness in the I. W. W., conspiracy trial today.

Despite the fact that earlier witnesses had spoken of the same strike, which extended over both the east and west sides of the Cascade Mountains as a purely industrial disturbance, Green said it was called as a protest against conscription and to aid imprisoned I. W. W. workers.

Ottawa, July 25.—W. A. Easterbrook, of Chicago, is mentioned in today's casualty list. He is wounded.

ALLIES PRESSING HUNS HARD ON AISNE-MARNE

Great Events Impending Along Battle Front

WASHINGTON, July 25. — With American, French and British forces pressing the enemy hard on all sides of the Asne-Marne battle front the air of Washington was electric tonight with a feeling of expectancy as of great events impending. Rumors of decisive victory ran thru official circles like wild fire. Untracable reports were current that the army of the German crown prince had been trapped and even that the crown prince himself had been captured. Official reports gave no foundation on which the feeling of suppressed excitement could be based .

"The latest despatches," said Secretary Baker, "show continued advances in several places by French, British and American troops. They are not extensive but are important and show that the battle is continuing with great vigor."

Earlier in the day a press despatch told of rumors in London that the British west of Rheims had scored decided success and advanced toward Fismes, the German rail base mid-way between Soissons and Rheims. Later reports confirmed this to the extent of a stride forward by British and French forces on a three mile front just west of Rheims, throwing the enemy back a mile and a half. Probably it was this which started reports of a sweeping victory.

Still later came news of decided gains by Franco-Amercan troops around Fere-en-Tardenois and north of Dormans on the Marne. It was evident that the southern and southestern angle of the German position were yielding to the pressure against them. News came also of important advances along the Ourcq front.

The outstanding fact tonight appeared to be that the enemy's front was being forced back all along the sixty mile battle line. Of the gains recorded the Franco-British drive probably has the greatest possibilities for it means that the eastern jaw of General Foch's gigantic trap is closing in. Other reports show that the German high command has massed reserves and concentrated artillery to prevent movement at this point or at its counter part near Soissons where tne western jaw has already been driven ahead in a week's wighting and now faces German reserves assembled from the whole battle line. Should the Franco-British troops be able to enlarge their advance materially the great trap might be finally sprung by overwhelming blows on both sides. In that event all of the victories pictured in tonight's rumors might well be realized.

Today's advices indicated that further withdrawal was in progress along the southern loop of the line. Franco-American advances north of Dormans shows that points to which the enemy has clung tenaciously for days are being taken. Pressure all along the line from Jaulgonne to the Ourcq probably has made these most southerly German positions untenable it was said.

Secretary Baker has so far received no word of the American losses in the present fighting. There is no doubt that he construes General Pershing's silence on this point as meaning that the cost has not been greater than the numbers engaged or the effort made would justify. German press reports of tens of thousands of American dead before their lines are put out as a sop to the Germn people it is believed.

Mr. Baker's attention was called to the German despatch referring to the American troops as further "cannon fodder" put into action by the French.

The best information we have, he said, seems to indicate that they (the Germans) are themselves supplying most of that material at the present time. We have no reports on our casualties as yet but our people have a much better opportunity to know our losses than the Germans have because we have been taking ground they have been giving up and in that situation we have a superior opportunity for observation.

FULTON EXPLAINS FAILURE TO REGISTER

NEW YORK, July 25.—Fred Fulton, Minnesota claimant of the heavyweight pugilistic championship has satisfactorily explained his failure to appear for examination before his local draft board here and the request for his apprehension as a delinquent sent to the draft board at Harrison, N. J., has been cancelled. Jack Curley, promoter of the bout between Fulton and Jack Dempsey scheduled in Harrison for Saturday night, made public a letter to this effect from the New York local board to the Harrison board. The letter states that Fulton failed to receive notices mailed to him due to their miscarrieg and that he had been "entirely frank" in his answers.

War News Summary

News of Activities On Various Battle Fronts in Summarized Form By Associated Press.

General Foch has taken a leaf out of the book of German military strategic and ordained the use by the allied armies of the pincer system of offensive in the Soissons-Rheims salient. Both jaws of the pincer are moving smoothly with the pivot along the Marne working in unison and the process of attempting to capture many of the nearly half a million Germans in the big pocket is well on the way to what at present seems like possible success.

The Germans however, evidently do not intend to permit themselves to be entrapped without fighting. Having thrown thousands of reinforcements into the already congested salient they have started a counter attack of great violence all along the semi-circular front from Ourcq river to the region immediately southwest of Rheims and their men are said to have orders to stem the allied tide of advance at all costs.

Nevertheless at last accounts the Americans, French, British and Italian troops, themselves well reinforced to meet the new turn in affairs were steadily pressing forward at nearly all points on the battle line to Rheims while northwesterly direction of about contingent—the first of the Poles to enter the combat is declared to have carried out successfully an enterprise against the enemy in which more than 200 Germans were made prisoner.

The western jaw of the pincer continues to move eastward along the Ourcq river on both sides of the stream and the Franco-American troops are virtually knocking at the gates of Fere-en-Tardenois, the important railway junction and storehouse for Germany's war supplies. Further down to the Marne new advances in keeping with those in the north have been attained. At the pivo of the pincer, north of the Marne, mid-way between Chateau Thierry and Rheims, the French have extended their line northward in the forest of Fere, in the Ris forest and north of Dormans, while the eastern jaw of the pincer, under the pressure of the British has noticeably moved forward in a the allied troops have hammered a mile and a half over a three mile front to Mery-Premecy and Gueux, the last named village five miles west of Rheims and a scant mile and a half from the Rheims-Fismes road. At Mery Premecy the allied line now stands about ten and a half miles southeast of Fismes, which is the central station on the railway running between Soissons and Rheims. For a week and a day the allied troops have hmmered against the Soissons-Rheims salient until its width across between the cities has been narrowed to about 21 miles from an original width of 27 miles, while the triangular salient has been welded into a semi-circular Cul-de-sac. Over the entire pocket the allied artillery continues to rain shells from all sides and airmen are keeping up their intensive bombing of troop formations and military works.

As yet notwithstanding the inroads of the allied troops there has been no sign of an immediate retreat on the part of the Germans and if he elects to stand and fight it out and the allied gains continue with the same success as heretofore it seems that, with the daily narrowing of the neck of the pocket the enemy necessarily will lose many of his men when the time comes to make his way northeastward.

Some perturbation is being caused in England thru a strike in several cities of munition workers. The workmen threaten a further extension of the strike unless their demands are met.

BRITISH AND FRENCH TROOPS MAKE ADVANCES

Making Great Headways Despite Stern Resistance

London, July 25.—British and French troops have advanced to Gueux and Merry Premeecy, in the battle sector just west of Rheims, according to information received here this afternoon from the battle front.

The French last night also pushed well forward along the south bank of the river Ourcq, but this morning they found they were in an isolated position, and they were compelled to fall back. E ast of Rheims a Polish contingent attached to the French made a successful enterprise and captured 213 prisoners. The French are continuing their attacks for a distance of a mile despite stern resistance, capturing the southern part of Fere-en-Tardenois to Jaulgonne. The town of Fere-en-Tardenois is now within 8,000 yards of the French lines.

The advance of the British and French along the battle front between Rheims and the Marne to Gueux and Merry Premeecy represents a gain of about a mile and a half along a front of three miles. The town of Gueux lies to the south of the River Vesle and is about five miles directly west of the cathedral city. Merry Premeecy is a short distance noorth, which is the center of a line running between Soissons and Rheims.

On the west side of the pocket the Franco-American trooops have straightened out their lines at the expense of the Germans during the past twenty-four hours, this involving a loss to the enemy of about forty square miles of territroy between Armentierres and Vincelles. The line in the lower western part of the pocket now runs straight southeast from Armentierres and along this line the Germans have been compelled to give up all the little angles and corners which they had been holding on to the observation points or strong points. The German military nerve center at Fere-en Tardenois, which, as the junction of several great roads, was the most impoortant storehouse and distributing point of the Germans is now under the cross fire of the French and American artillery, and must be well night untenable. No place in the pocket is a very comfortable position with the allied long range artillery sweeping back and forth with balloons and airplanes directing the fire.

FRENCH CAPTAIN KILLED

Paris, July 25.—Havas Agency—Announcement is made of the death of Captain Van Stollenhoven, former governor of colonies and captain of the Moroccan colony infantry. He fell before Longpont on July 19, at the head of his troops during an attack. Captain Van Stollenhoven enlisted in the army as a simple soldier and received the legion of honor upon the battlefield.

LAKE SEAMAN ASKED TO ABANDON STRIKE

Shipping Board Telegraphs Union That Strike Would Tie Up the War Making Industries of the Country.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—The shipping board today telegraphed the Lake Seamen's Union asking that the strike of seamen employed on vessels of the Lake Carriers' association, called for next Monday, beabandoned. The strike the message said, virtually would tie up the war making industries of the country.

In the face of a threatened strike of seamen on the great lakes which would tie up the transportation of iron ore, coal program the shipping board to-and wheat essential to the war night issued a statement informing the public of every step in the controversy and declaring that the board does not feel that there are any grievances to justify a strike at this time.

Telegrams were sent to the Sailors' Union and the Marine firemen, Oilers and Water Tenders' Union, pointing out the disastrous effects which a strike would have on the country and its consequent effect on the prosecution of the war. Chairman Hurley signed the statement because the strike resolution was worded as to make the board a party to the controversy.

"In issuing this statement," Mr. Hurley said, "the shipping board has gone fully into the grievances mentioned in the joint strike resolution because of the grave menace to the national safety involved in a strike on the great lakes. A stoppage of the movement of the lake vessels would cut off the supply of ore needed in the manufacture of steel plates for shipbuilding and many other essentials of war, and would jeopardize the movement of wheat to our army abroad and to our allies. No strike should be called which might be based upon a misunderstanding of what has happened, or which is capable of a different solution."

AMERICAN PARTY RECEIVED BY KING

Rome, July 25.—American congressional party which is visiting Italy has been given the most cordial welcome at Italian army headquarters. The members of the party have been received by King Victor Emmanuel and General Diaz.

The Americans have visited the battle field of the Piave, Montello Plateau and Monte Grappa, and have gone to the soldiers' camp, where they have expressed the good will of America for Italy.

One of the most notable events attended by the Americans was the decoration by tne king of 900 men with medals of valor. The twelve American ambulance drivers were among those honored. The party is now going to France.

SHOOTS ANNOYERS.

Eureka, Mo., July 25.—Bernice Jennings, 17, of Springfield, Mo., a night telegraph operator for the St. Louis, San Francisco railroad here, shot and killed James McGraw, 18, early today, after he and several companions had persistently annoyed her while she was at work, according to her story. A previous shot glanced off the floor and wounded Earl Eatherton, son of a local physician, i n the leg.

AMERICA FACE TO FACE WITH SUGAR FAMINE

Must Go On Ration of Two Pounds Per Capita Monthly

WASHINGTON, July 25.—The American public was asked by the American food administration to go on a sugar ration of two pounds per capita monthly beginning August 1, to meet a world shortage in this commodity and to care for the immediate demands of the allies and the American military forces. The American public at present is on a three pounds per capita ration monthly, under a request issued by the food administration a year ago. Household rationing will be voluntary at present but public eating places will be required to observe new regulations effective August 1, permitting the use of two pounds of sugar for every ninety meals served instead of three pounds under existing regulations.

Unless the consumption of sugar is reduced both by householders and the public generally, the food administration warns in an appeal made today, supplies for Belgium ,the Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., Knights of Columbus, Salvation Army and other organizations working for the welfare of American military forces in Europe cannot be maintained.

The sugar situation confronting the United States is described by the food administration as follows:

"The sugar supplies thruout the country in homes, stores, factories and bakeries are at low ebb; the production from the American beet and Louisiana cane crops have been disappointing; the yield in Porto Rico has likewise been smaller than anticipated; and the inability of the United States and allies to secure sugar from Java and other distant sources on account of the imperative call for ships for the movement of rtoops and their supplies has materially reduced the supply from such quarters. Added to this already difficult situation the quantity needed by the army and navy greatly exceeds earlier estimates we must send a large amount to France and Italy to take the place of the great volume lost thru the German and Austrian invasions, during which much beet land was overrun and many factories destroyed; we have to supply several tons to other nations under agreement.

"I nasking the public voluntarily to reduce their consumption to a level more nearly equal to the compulsory restrictions in effect in France, England and Italy the statement says that while sugar is often used as a luxury in America it has become an 'essential element' for the success of the war among the nations of Europe.

"Upon our action here, depends the possibility of maintaining the ration to our own fighting men and those of the allies as well as of avoiding a still further reduction of the allotments to the civil population of the nations fighting Germany, which are already down to a point far under their normal needs."

To assure equitable distribution of the sugar the American public is to be allowed, the food administration has worked out a scheme of allocation to the states based on population and the needs of sugar using industries in the states. Each state food administrator will have charge of distribution in his state.

ADJOURN HEARING IN COLUMBIA DISASTER

Peoria, Ill., July 25.—After hearing the testimony of several witnesses, Coroner E. L. Clary, of Pekin, this noon again indefinitely adjourned his hearing of the steamer Columbia disaster, which cost 87 lives. Coroner W. B. Elliott, of Peoria, this afternoon resumed his hearing and declared he would not stop until it was completed. Mrs. Herman Meil, wife of the captain of the ill-tated boat, was to be the first witness called.

Undertaker H. C. Wilmot, before Coroner Clary's jury this morning, said eight of the ten victims he had handled were not drowned and bore no bruises. He said he was unable to explain the cause of death.

STETTINIUS IN FRANCE.

Paris, July 25.—Edward R. Stettinius, second assistant secretary of war of the United States, who is now in Paris, will make a tour of inspection on the American front and then visit the French and British armies and, perhaps, the Italian front.

Among the advisers accompanying him are Samuel L. Felton, director of railway supplies; W. S. Gifford, of the Council of National Defense, and Charles Day, of the Emergency Fleet Corporation.

KEELEY APPOINTED.

Washington, July 25.—Formal announcement of the appointment of James Keeley, former editor of the Chicago Herald, as special representative of the committee on public information in connection with its foreign educational work, was made today by Chairman George Creel. Keeley will have offices in London and Paris.

REACH AGREEMENT ON EXCESS PROFITS TAX

Plans of House Ways and Means Committee Fall $1,660,000,000 Short of Treasury Estimate of $6,000,000,000 Revenue.

Washington, July 25.—The house ways and means committee in tentatively agreeing today on a graduated tax on war excess profits estimated by the treasury to yield only $1,690,000,000 revenue, found that either all its plans so far tentaively agreed on would have to be readjusted in order to produce the $6,000,000,000 sought from excess profits and incomes or to resort to some new tax propositon. As now planned, the revenue from these two sources would fall $1,660,000,000 short.

The committee after an all day session tentatively agreed to a specific exemption of $2,000 plus ten per cent on invested capital, instead of $3,000 plus 7 to 9 per cent, exempted from excess profits tax under the present law. Various taxing plans also were discussed with the committee favoring thirty per cent on all net income in ecess of the exemption of ten per cent and not in excess of twenty per cent excess profits. Fifty per cent on net incomes in ecess of 20 per cent and not in excess of 25 per cent and 80 per cent on net income in excess of 25 per cent. Under the present law the war excess profits tax runs from 20 per cent on net income in excess of the deduction and not in excess of 15 per cent of invested capital for the taxable year to sixty per cetn in excess of 33 per cent of such invested capital together with eight per cent on net income in excess of deduction for trade or business havin gno invested capital.

Discovery that the total revennes likely to be derived from income and excess profits taxes will amount to only $4,340,000,000, instead of the $6,000,000,000 contemplated by the treasury as capable of being raised from these sources is considered as probably forcing a revision of the schedules so far tentatively agreed upon.

Should it be necessary to revise tentatively Chairman Kitchin today stated the committee "leaned" to the three following plans:

Tax of eighty per cent on all net incomes in excess of the 10 per cent exemption, estimated by the treasury to yield $2,400,000,000.

Tax of forty per cent on all net incomes in excess of exemption of ten per cent and not in excess of 20 per cent and 80 per cent on all net income in excess of 20 per cent, estimated by the treasury as possible of yielding $1,750,000,000.

Tax of sixty to eight per cent on the difference between the average per cent of profits for the best four of the six years from 1911 to 1916, inclusive, the years to be selected by the corporation and the profits for the taxable year, with a deduction of ten per cent for capitl put in since 1916. No estimate of the revenue to be raised under this plan was made by the treasury, but it was said this tax would affect concerns which made large profits before the war as well as since the beginning of the war.

WILL IMPROVE ROADS BUT NO ROAD BUILDING

Springfield, Ill., July 25.—Bad spots in the Lincoln and Dixie highways in Northern Illinois will be improved within the next few weeks, but road building in these sections will not exceed five or six miles, S. E. Bradt, superintendent of highways, announced today.

Sections to be laid, Mr. Bradt said, are west of Malta, in Dekalb county, and south of West hicago in Dupage county, on the Lincoln highway, and south and north of New Milford, in Winnebago county, on the Dixie highway.

The work will not be contracted for, but will be directed by the state highway department itself.

It is generally understood that any extensive program of road building this year has been abandoned, because of conditions incident to the war.

PLAN NEW OFFENSIVE.

Washington, July 25.—A new offensive against Italy by German and Austrian divisions commanded by a German general, has been determined upon by the entral Powers, according to information reaching the Italian high command. An official dispatch from Italy today said German troops for the offnensive already had arrived in Austria.

LARGE SUB LAUNCHED.

Quincy, Mass., July 25.—A giant submarine, said by its builders to be the largest ever launched in this country and embodying all the latest design in submarines, went down the ways at the Fore River plant of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation this afternoon. She was christened AA-1.

CONSTRUCT DESTROYER IN SEVENTY DAYS.

Washington, July 25.—A new world's record in destroyer construction has been established at the Mare Island (California) navy yard in the commissioning of the Ward, seventy days after her keel was laid, the navy department announced today.

The Ward was launched seventeen and one-half days after the first plate was laid. Formerly it required twenty-four months to construct a destroyer in this country.

GERMAN LOSSES IN PRESENT BATTLE ARE OVER 200,000

Casualties Inflicted By Americans Number 50,000

With the American Army on the Aisne-Marne Front, July 25.—With the sides of the Soissons-Rheims sack coming closer together, the German crown prince's generals are driving their men mercilessly in an effort to hold them off long enough to extricate the armies threatened at the bottom north of the Marne. The American and French troops are never far behind the retreating forces and the vicious rearguard actions are not sufficiently resistant to enable the Germans to proceed in the orderly manner planned. At Dormans, north of the Marne and east of Chateau-Thierry, the Germans counter attacked, taking the position, but were promptly driven out. They occupied Treloup, west of Dormans, and have held it.

Minor advances have been made by the allies in the woods in that part of the sector, while further to the east, south of Rheims, there were additional allied successes.

The Americans have occupied Courpoil, on the road to Fere-en-Tardenois, and the French positions have been advanced until Oulchy-la-Chateau is dominated by the guns.

Near Soissons, the Germans failed to hold all their positions, notwithstanding reinforcements and their desperate need. It is estimated, unofficially, tonight, that the enemylosses are more than 200,000, of which 50,000 were inflicted by the Americans. The prisoners alone number over 20,000 and the losses in dead and wounded are appalling.

The French used more armored cars than usual and cavalry or mounted patrols were effectively employed in clearing the forests and maintaining conflict.

Toward Soissons there has been increased artillery work and bitterer and steadier fighting. The French and American soldiers disorder caution, almost entiredy yesterday advancing their lines in open order and taking what came without bothering to hunt down machine gun nests. This brought them into closer contact with the main body of the retreating forces.

In numerous cases machine gun companies surrendered, altho it was necessary to clean up many others.

Back of the lines there are dressing stations and fixed hospitals and the American wounded are cared for expeditiously and skillfully, in a manner reflecting the qualities of veteranship now belonging to the American establishments in France. American doctors and nurses, men and women, are working night and day to relieve pain and restore injured members. To them the young men representing almost every state in the Union, and occasionally a French or British soldier, are hurried, to be cared for until they could be transferred elsewhere.

The same spirit of co-operation is displayed in all the hospitals of the allies. But the number of wounded is not so great as might be expectedf rom the magnitude of the operations.

Y. M. C. A. men also are close on the heels of the advancing Americans. One outfit appeared at Jaulgonne early in the morning with cigarettes, chocolate and other delicacies, to be disposed of in their canteens. The guns were roaring on all sides, but Jaulgonne, it was announced, had been captured, and the Y. M. C. A. took charge. The commanding officer ordered the Y. M. C . A. out explaining not only that it was too hot, but that the men would gather wherever they were, and German shells had a habit of going where the observers spotted crowds.

It would be no surprise if the battle between the Aisne and Marne ends soon, or if the crown prince should force operations in a new phase by massing troops for a tremendous counter attack on a part of the battle front, perhaps the flank south of Soissons, where the Germans already have offered such determined resistance.

Altho outwitted by the strategy of General Foch and outfought by the Franco-American commanders, there is noo disposition to underestimate the danger of the staggering German armies

The German crown prince yelled for help promptly.

The fighting men from America are being heard from.

German official statements say the Allies are being defeated—but that it has been deemed wise for their forces to retreat.

Some of the husky ball players might make good bomb throwers.

Monday and Tuesday are to be lightless hereafter—but we are trained to that already.

Canning without sugar is not a new process, but may bring out many new methods.

The Peoria Board of school inspectors have decided with one dissenting vote, that the word, "kindergarten" shall not be used in schools of that city. It sounds two much akin to the Hun language.

Food Administrator Hoover assures the people of England that the U-boat is no longer a menace. That is welcome news—if true.

AS GREAT AS THE FIRST OFFENSIVE.

Viewed on a small scale map, the Marne battlefield is an exceedingly small part of the line from the North Sea to the Swiss frontier. But let there be no misunderstanding; the fifth thrust of the Germans was every whit as great as the vast offensive of March 21 which caused such dismay among the Allies.

The crown prince threw into the fight 50 divisions largely composed of picked troops, and employed new tactics by his attempt to encirle Rheims. But this time something happened. The plunge east of Rheims was mastered on the first day and broken in the second. South and west of Rheims the Germans crossed the Marne, and Foch, waiting until they were nicely within the trap, struck the terrible blow on the German flank.

The thing to bear in mind is that this battle in which the Allies have performed so valiantly and successfully, far from being one of the minor engagements of the war, is probably the greatest, says the Decatur Herald. It merely shows that the Germans have no monopoly on military skill, and that with conditions being equal, the Allies can outfight them.

The idea is summed up admirably in the words of one of the correspondents: "The Marne is more than a river, as Verdun is more than a fortress. These names are symbols, and the one will ring as the other did in the middle of the war, like a death knell, across the lands where the fear of Berlin was once accounted the beginning of wisdom."

THE RUSSIAN SITUATION.

This government presumably sounded out the Russian situation carefully before deciding upon intervention with the aid of Japan. If Mr. Wilson's fears that an uprising of the Russian people against invaders have been dissipated, it is because he knows that the economic conditions in Russia are going from bad to worse.

A relief commission, it is unofficially announced, will accompany the armed force. The Russians may "fear the Greeks bearing gifts", but their fears may be allayed when the gifts save them from starvation, and it is believed that 20,000,000 of them will starve this winter unless relief is given. It is rather difficult to impute bad motives to a man who thrusts into your hands the food that saves your children's lives. Between Bolshevikism and starvation on the one hand, and bread and a restored national spirit on the other, Russia is likely to choose the bread.

Russia is the traveler who fell among thieves and was left by the side of the road to die. It is not recorded that the Good Samaritan's kindnesses were repulsed by the object of his charities. The parable doesn't say so, but the probable reason that the Good Samaritan himself traveled in safety was that he carried a stout bludgeon. That is exactly what Uncle Sam is going to carry when he goes into Russia on an errand of mercy.

OUR OPPORTUNITY.

Editor Journal:-

It would seem to a casual observer that Morgan County has at the present time a splendid opportunity to elect a senator to represent the 54th district. There is a lively war being waged between the Wheeler faction and Butler swash-bucklers in old Sangamon and in order to throw oil on the trouble waters it would be a good scheme for Morgan to offer a man who could unite the warring elements in and around the capital city and elect a Republican senator. Three very good men have been mentioned in the last few weeks in connection with the state senatorship, they being Messrs. Wemple of Waverly and Charles B. Graff and H. H. Bancroft of this city, all good men and in my opinion any one of them could go over the top, while going seems to be good unless all signs fail this is going to be a good year for republican candidates in Illinois, and more especially in this senatorial district. Morgan county has been out in the cold a long time and as a matter of justice we should have some kind of representation in the law making body. Fair minded men of both parties in Sangamon admit this, and now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of some good Morgan county man." The disaffected elements in Sangamon would willingly rally around a Morgan county man at this time and put him over the top in a jiffy. We must put up a "bone dry" man and victory is as sure as anything can be in politics for the days of John Barleycorn are numbered. Either one of the three gentlemen above mentioned could carry our banner to victory and plant it on the grave of the greatest foe to humanity, namely the home wrecker, the demon rum, and all the evils that follow in its tragic train. Opportunity is now knocking at the door of old Morgan so let us grasp it now for it will be a long time before it comes again.

RIPPLING RHYMS

By Walt Mason

Careless Slacking.

Jim Jimpson stopped his touring car, and let the motor run, while handling out, with face ajar, some facts about the Hun. He pushed hot language from his throat for minutes seventeen, and all the time his idle boat was burning gasoline. A million cars thus wasteful stand, as we proceed to press, the gas thus burned, thruout the land, would make a lake, I guess. Ere long me thinks that Uncle Sam will shut off the supply, and then, from York to Yuba Dam we'll cuss the wasteful guy: I see men slacking every day unconscious that they slack; Jinks throws a pair of shoes away, because one has a crack. Bilks squanders money when he sups, but has no ill intents; Jones not worth eleven cents. Crips feeds a string of useless pups, buys more garments than he needs, and gorgeously he's drest; Crump blows himself for Cuban weeds, when twofers would be best. We all should save in every style, to swat those Teuton scamps; and when we have a little pile, invest in bonds or stamps.

Roy Sandberg Writes from N. Y.

Mrs. A. T. Sandberg has the following from her son, Roy E. Sandberg, with the 329th Field Artillery, Battery D, Camp Mills, L. I.:

Camp Mills, L. I, New York, N. Y.
Dear Mother and All:

Well, here I am and a little bit farther away from home, but am feeling fine and enjoying life. We sure had a fine ride on the train. We left Camp Custer Tuesday, July 16th, at 1 p. m. Battery A and B left at 11 a. m. C. and D left at 1 p. m. and E and F left at 3 p. m. There were two batteries on each train, two hours between each other.

Will try and tell you a little about the trip. Our first stop was at Detroit, Mich., and there the Red Cross gave us sandwiches, cake, candy, postal cards, cigarettes and milk and, believe me, we sure enjoyed it. Then we stopped again at some town in Canada and there we were treated again by the Red Cross. Then we traveled along singing and having lots of fun.

We got into New York state about 10 bells Tuesday night and stopped at Niagara Falls for a few minutes to see the falls, and then we got some more eats from the Red Cross. We then traveled all night and about 6 bells, we stopped at a town by the name of Revena, N. Y. All got off the train and took a long march. We marched through the town and after we had marched through, which only took us about five minutes, as it was only a small town, we stopped and took our morning exercise. After that was over, back to the train we went.

We then traveled until we reached New York City, got off and marched onto a ferry boat and took a ride down the Hudson river. As we traveled we could see most of the main part of New York from the boat, and talk about your tall buildings, "gee" we sure did see some sights.

We went under three large bridges, the Brooklyn bridge, the Queens Borough and the Williamsburg and, say, I sure did open my eyes when I saw "'em", ha ha. Well, I got to see old New York, after all.

We traveled down the Hudson river until we came to Brooklyn, N. Y. There we landed and took the train to Old Camp Mills. The Red Cross also gave us cookies and milk when we were on the boat. We got into Brooklyn at 5 bells Wednesday evening and as we had to wait quite awhile for our train we didn't land in here until 12 bells Wednesday night.

The only thing that spoiled our trip was that it rained all the way and when we got in here we marched through mud and water with our pack on our back. We had to march about two or three miles but finally got to our stopping place and, say, talk about tired, believe me, we sure were some tired boys.

They don't have any barracks up here, everything is tents. Even the Y. M. C. A. quarters are made up of tents and there we stood all lined up and we sure had some long wait. The officers had to arrange so many cots in each tent but as there wasn't enough tents some of them had to sleep on the ground and I was one of them, but I didn't care as I was so tired I could have slept in a mud puddle and believe me, I didn't miss it far ha. ha.

The army life is sure a great old life "if you don't weaken." Oh, yes, I also saw Wall Street or a part of it. Also saw the Statue of Liberty. New York sure is a grand place and the birdges are simply wonderful, street cars running by the thousands back and forth and they have two decks. Some run on the lower deck and some above them, but guess I don't have to tell you anything about the bridges as you have already seen them, but guess it will be interesting to the boys.

Lots of the fellows received mail today, forwarded from Camp Custer, so you see the mail got here almost as quick as we did. I can't tell you exactly how many tents they have here but there must be somewhere around 25,000 or 30,000 and there are supposed to be eight men in each tent.

We had strict orders from our captain before we left Camp Custer not to spit on the floor of the train, not to talk to anyone when we stopped at different towns along the way. The only people we could talk to were the Red Cross ladies, and we sure did talk some to them. ha. ha. We weren't allowed to tell where we were from or where we were going, in fact, we didn't know where we were going until we landed here.

When we stopped in Detroit some woman came up to another fellow and myself and as we had the window open she asked us if our bunch was Battery D. We said we didn't know, then she asked us if we were from Camp Custer and we said we didn't know. Ha. Ha. So she walked away. I guess she wasn't satisfied with the information she received. I am only about 1200 miles from the old town of Jacksonville.

I don't think we will be here over a week or two before we start for over there. Wednesday evening as we were waiting for our train, we were all sitting along the side walk and some of the fellows were writing postal cards to send to their friends and as New York is a wet town it happened that we stopped directly in front of a saloon. After all the cards were written they had to be turned over to the captain to be censored or read and this is what one fellow wrote: Our captain read it out loud to the whole bunch and he was standing directly in front of the saloon and the saloon keeper standing up in the door way behind him. This is the way the postal read: "Hello Jim, feeling fine. I am sitting in front of a saloon writing this postal and can't get a drink. Can you beat it?" I thought that was pretty good but the captain wouldn't tell who wrote it. We sure did laugh.

This camp is only about 20 miles from New York but don't think I will go there. Say, this sure is some place for aeroplanes. There must be at least two or three hundred planes here. It isn't anything to see from 20 to 25 aeroplanes in the air at the same time.

Say, mama, I made an allottment of $15.00 per month which you will receive each month and you can do what you want with it. Several of the other boys made an allottment to their mothers so I did, too. Well, as it is almost 9 bells, must close. Please answer soon and I will answer soon if I am here. Tell papa and the boys hello. Also tell Ruth and Did and family hello. With lots of love and kisses from your son and brother, Roy.

My address is
R. E. Sandberg,

At Great Lakes Station

Mrs. C. J. Wright of East Morgan street has received the following letter from her son. The family recently moved here from Franklin. The young man is only 17 years of age but heard his country's call and with the consent of his mother answered it.

Great Lakes,, Ill., July 1, 1918.
Dear Mother:

This is a very good time for me to write you.

Now mother, brace up and don't forget my motto is always good: "Smile, smile smile!" This is a good remedy for most anything you want to use it for. Well, I am all right and well satisfied here and hope you do not worry about me for I will take care of myself as well as I did when I was in Litchfield and every one knew me there.

We get what is called a shot. It is to put some medicine in your arm. Now I have had two shots already and expect to get another tomorrow. This will be the last one. I told you I was going to J. B. at St. Louis but I decided to stay with the bunch and we all came to Great Lakes and joined the navy. It is all O. K. I was over to headquarters today and signed up to get into the ground aviation or record class machinist. This pays something like $62.00. This is not an aviator it is only mechanic and is just what I wanted. I expect to go to New Jersey for a three weeks' course in school and then I go to France and stay on the coast and repair our planes. The captain asked who would like to sign for this so Weatherford and I jumped at the chance. I want to get back to my old job as soon as I can on a car or motor of some kind.

Now mother, never worry about me but just say to everyone you talk to that I am well satisfied and that I am going to do my best to repair motors for use to bring down German airplanes and that I will be there until the Stars and Stripes float over Germany and when it does I will come marching home with the band playing, "The Star Spangled Banner."

Don't ever let anyone tell you that you did wrong in letting me come to help defend the Stars and Stripes. Ask them if they don't think a whole lot of that Old Glory they live under, and if it is not defended by us fellows what would happen to them.

Now tell all the kids hello for me and tell them to keep a flag flying somewhere around the place all the time and not to be ashamed to say I have a brother under that flag in a white uniform and he is doing his bit to help demolish that whole d—— set of Germans.

Mother, when I do come home you can say your boy was not a slacker and was never drafted.

Write me every chance you get and tell Dad and Milton to write.

Tell Dad and Ma Jolly hello and Ma Wright and Aunt Kamille.

As ever, your son,
Orien Tandy Wright,
Great Lakes, Ill.

Letter from Sergt. Rodgers

Harry Clement of the Ayers National bank has received the letter given hereunder from Jay Rodgers who is in France. The paper money referred to is on display in the Journal office window:

Dear Harry:

Enclosed are some rather delapidated local currency that I imagine will be of interest to you. The value of the whole works is equivalent to about 35c in our money. Imagine a paying cage filled with that kind of stuff. Of course there is a regular Bank of France currency besides this.

Since arrival, we have seen things and done things that will serve as foundations for yarns, some day, but at present it would hardly be practical to write about them. A glance at the headlines of the Tribune would give you more of an idea of what's what than we know—let alone write about.

Did you know Frank Bavington? Some one yelled "Hello Jay,, the other day and it was no one but him.

Earlier in our travels I met Fount Andrews one day.

We are all, quite naturally, looking forward to the day when old Statue of Liberty lies to our left. There is something about that particular statue that makes a hit with me.

Please give my best to Mrs. Clement and the bunch at the bank.

Harry, there are lots of things that could be spoken of here but it would be violating the laws of censorship. So practically all that can be has been said—viz.: Hello and so long.

Your friend, indeed,
Sergt. H. Jay Rodgers,
Co. A, 108th Military Police.

Lester Landreth Now in France

The following letter has just been received from Private Lester C. Landreth who has been in France for about three months:

Somewhere in France,
June 18th, 1918.

Dear Friend:

I received your kind letter a few days ago. How are you? My trip across the "pond" was without a mishap. Some of the boys contributed to the livelihood of the fishes, but that is to be expected. It is hard to realize that so much salt water could possibly be kept together without running all over the world.

We landed at a French seaport, and when we got off the boat our eyes began to open. The houses are made of stone or cement with a high fence around them. Some of the buildings are two hundred years old.

The people of France are very much different from those in the old U. S. A. They have one day a week for market day, when all the people from fifty miles around gather together. The men wear black satin and the women wear black dresses and also some of purple. They call this dressed up. The children wear wooden shoes, and when they get together they sound like a bunch of horses.

We have a very nice Y. M. C. A. here and can buy cigarettes, candy, tobacco, coffee, chocolate and sandwiches. We also have different games, all in doors: Baseball, football, volley ball and we have several sets of boxing gloves, in fact everything we want. These things are to play with in our spare hours.

Well, I guess I have told you everything I can think of now.

I remain your friend,
Private Lester C. Landreth.

T. H. Robson Writes from France.

Among the Morgan county boys now in the service "somewhere in France" is Thomas H. Robson of Murrayville, a member of Co. E., 32nd Engineers, A. E. F. The following letter was written some time since to his mother, Mrs. Lucinda Robson of Murrayville.

Somewhere in France, June 1918.
Dear Mother:

I arrived over here all safe and sound and am enjoying the best of health. We had a fine trip over and I did not get the least homesick. This is surely a jolly company and to see us you would not think that we were going to war, for every one is cutting up like boys at the first picnic of the season.

This is a fine country and the people are very interesting to us. The climate is fine and the days are cool and clear. I have seen many wonderful sights since I left home but I will wait until I get back to tell you about all of them, as it would take too long to write the whole story.

Have just gotten back from dinner and will write a few more lines before we go for a hike. I received a card from Carl a few days ago saying he was leaving for sea duty. I hope he gets along all right.

We went for a six mile hike this afternoon and I am now feeling fine. Walking is so much better than lounging around doing nothing. We are getting plenty of good food and have a good place to sleep, so are all o. k.

Hope you will receive this promptly and answer soon, as it takes mail quite a while to make the round trip.

Your loving son,
Private homas H. Robson,
Co. E, 32nd Engineers,
A. E. F. via N. Y.

SAVING GRAIN PLANS

C. T. Mackness has received instructions from the state organization on food conservation to emphasize the fact that strict conservation methods must be followed by farmers in the handling of grain. Previous mention has been made of the necessity of seeing to it that wagons in which threshed grain is hauled have tight beds so that none of the grain is spilled. Another rule requires that the grain wagons on which the sheaves of wheat are hauled shall be tight so that none of the grain can shake off and be lost on the ground. The custom prevails of using ordinary hay racks for hay purposes. It is too late to enforce any such rule here now but the administration has given notice of its intention to insist on tight bottomed hay wagons when used for the hauling of grain next season.

HAT'S IN THE RING.

After duly considering the matter Captain J. M. Swales has fully decided to enter the race for county commissioner and expects to be nominated at the primary election September 11. Hundreds of his friends have urged him to make the race. His record as a soldier in the Civil War and his standing as a citizen in this community where he has resided practically all of his life entitle him to the favorable consideration of all patriotic citizens regardless of party.

His patriotism has been tested in the fire of battle and the furnace of that hell of hate at Andersonville for many long months. He stands four square for law enforcement and the equality of all men before the law regardless of race, creed or previous condition of servitude, and believes that every man should have an equal chance under the Star Spangled Banner for which he gave four of the best years of his life to keep in the sky. He is for a vigorous prosecution of the war even to the last dollar and last ounce of American manhood rather than our nation should fail under the domination of the ruthless Hun and the war lords who loves war for war's sake and revel in human suffering. He has been "over the top" and knows that Sherman only told part of what war really means. His announcement will be found in another column.

PRESENTATIVES OF STEEL PLANTS CALLED

ill Meet with Director-General Schwab to Devise Means of Supplying Government with Steel for Big War Program.

Philadelphia, July 25.—Chas. Schwab, director-general of the mergency fleet corporation today called a conference in New ork Monday of representatives all tthe big steel drives, to devise means for keeping the government supplied with steel so at the war program will not be terrupted. He said the shipilding program now called for total of 4,000,000 tons a year.

"We are now getting steel at e rate of about 3,500,000 tons nnually," Mr. Schwab said. That amount would suffice if we d been able to build up a reserir in each yard, a sort of steel ushion, so to speak, on which to ll back in emergencies. Until e have such an accumulation in e yards, the larger figure of ipments will be essential. There nothing to do but to speed up d get it."

Mr. Schwab returned from the acific coast chiefly to take up he steel situation, complicated y the many demands by the govrnment, the allies and the less ssential industries of the country. He declared himself delighted with his western trip.

"The whole country is thrilled ith a patriotic impudse," said Mr. Schwab.

Reduced submarine sinkings n June were declared by Mr. chwab to be one of the most opeful developments of the war. He pointed out that deliveries in une from American ship yards alone equalled 75 per cent of the tonnage sunk. The big Hog Island yard, yet to launch its first vessel, is aboout 95 per cent complete and would be finished at a cost of approximately $55,000,000, the excess over estimates having been caused by the rise in the cost of labor and materials which has affected every big building project.

ACHOLISM IN N. Y. DECREASES ONE-THIRD

New York, July 25.—Alcoholism in New York city has decreased within one year to less than one-third of the volume of last year, as a result of the practice of war time thrift, the opportunities for regular employment and the increased cost of liquor, according to Bellevue hospital officials. The hospital records made public today show that within the last six months 1,079 alcoholic cases have been treated at Bellevue, as compared with 3,375 cases in the same months of 1917.

Although the increase in the cost of liquor may be a factor in the improved conditions, Dr. Stephen P. Jewett, of the psychopathic ward at Bellevue, said that the war atmosphere and the development of habits of thrift proved the greatest aids to sobriety.

"I am of the opinion," Dr. Jewett said, "that the sale of liberty bonds and thrift stamps, together with the duty of contributing to worthy war charities, has been an important factor in lessening alcoholic excesses in New York and throughout the country."

ASKS HONOR FOR SIXTY VOLUNTEERS.

GERMAN AVIATOR BOMBS U. S. MESS OUTFIT

Is Shot Down By Soldier in Commissary Wagon.

With the American Army on the Aisne-Marne Front, July 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—An American in a mess outfit shot down a German aviator during the Franco-American offensive south of Soissons, by hitting the enemy in the head with a rifle bullet.

Commissiary wagons were enroute to a site back of the lines, when the German swooped down and attacked the wagon train with a machine gun, flying low to make his aim certain. The panic stricken mules caused confusion and the drivers and soldiers had their hands full to control the animals. The young soldier leaped from a wagon as the enemy flier came near and shot him. The machine fell near by.

A German lieutenant and 18 men who were captured by the Americans were questioned concerning the remainder of the battalion. The officer replied:"

"Those eighteen are all that are alive." The lieutenant said the speed of the Americans was the biggest surpire of his army experience. He said the Americans even outclassed the Germans when the latter were attacking the Russians and added that he was glad to be a prisoner.

FAST RACING FEATURES GRAND CIRCUIT RACES

New Record Established In Trotting Race By Mabel Trask.

Toledo, O., July 25.—Fast racing again featured the Grand Circuit Harness meeting herd this afternoon. In the Free-for-all trott Tommy Murphy drove Mabel Trask to a new record of 2:01¾ and equalled the world's record for fastest second heat in a trotting race. Murphy's only opponent in the race was "Pop" Geers behind St. Frisco. The two horses finished neck and neck in both heats. Incidentally the new mark made for Mabel Trask equals that of Geers' stallion.

Geers won the Win Kinnan stake for two year old trotters, driving Brusiloff to 2:08¼ in the second heat the fastest of the season for two year old. Brusiloff took the event in straight heats.

Murphy gave Directum J, a new record of 2:03¼ in the first heat of the 2:06 pace and duplicated the time in the second heat. It required five heats to decide June Red the winner in the 2:12 trot for a purse of $3,000. Geers drove June Red in second place in the first heat, won the second, barely escaped the flag in the third and won in the fourth and fifth.

GERMAN LOSSES IN PRESENT BATTLE ARE OVER 200,000

striking another terrible blow on either flank.

The losses of the Germans have been enormous. They are estimated to range between 150,000 and 225,000. But it is obvious to all except enthusiastic optimists that the hard fighting German armies are not too crippled to attempt retaliation, ance they are in positions chosen by tthe crown prince or the crown prince's staff. There has been fiercer battle progress for the highways and railroads, with hope on the part of the allies, perhaps, to close the mouth of the sack and smother the Germans. It is believed, however, that the Germans will be able to get out of their position with the greater part of their army.

Altho the Germans have been frightfully punished on the line north of the Marne, the retreat, to where they are now was not due to this punishment, but was made imperative by the slowly closing flanks from which the big guns daily are reaching further toward tthe German munitions arteries.

The operations of today brot the town of Fere-en-Tardenois within striking distance of the heavy guns, and unless it is successfully defended, a retreat necessarily must be hurried. In that region the Germans have a number of light railways built by themselves. These once out of commission, it would leave the Germans no choice but to hasten backward.

Military students discredit somewhat the probability of a n early counter by the Germans on a big scale, especiallyo nt he Soissons flank. They point out that the Germans seldom plan hurriedly, desiring time to deliberate as to their movements. These students say it is probable the Germans will be content with flattening out and readjusting and restrengthening their line in a new position.

There is reason to believe that the personnel of the crown prince's organization has not been materially altered, altho it is presumed there must have been heavy replacements in it, made necessary by the terrible losses sustained. In the north Generals von Eben and Walter are responsible for the operations on the front of the Soissons flank. The remainder of the sector is being cared for by General von Boehm, his sub-commanders including von Winckler, von Schoeler, von Kothen, von Vichurd and von Schleihow.

General von Eben's section includes the thirteenth army and General von Boehm's the eighth army.

BAKER POSTPONES BASEBALL DECISION

Pressure of Other Matters Prevents Secretary from Forming Decision.

Washington, July 25.—Pressure of other matters, it was said tonight, has prevented Secretary Baker from formulating his decision as to extension of the effective time of applying the work or fight regulations to professional basebal players. No indication of when the decision will be announced was available tonight.

The report of Provost Marshal Crowder on the question, and the brief submitted yesterday by representatives of the baseball industry were understoodto have been considered by Secretary Baker during the day. Both at the war department and among baseball men here there was a feeling that the recent order applying the work or fight regulations to baseball players would be revised but to what extent was not known.

FUNERAL SERVICE HELD FOR DR. BARTLETT

Veteran Physician Laid to Rest in Diamond Grove Cemetery—War Comrades Were Honorary Bearers.

With an American flag draped about his casket, Dr. Aurelius T. Bartlett was laid to rest Thursday afternoon. An impressive but simple funeral service was conducted at the residence, 1215 West College avenue, at 2:30 o'clock, in charge of Dr. F. M. Rule, who is acting pastor of State Street Presbyterian church. Mrs. William Barr Brown, Jr., Mrs. Truman P. Carter, Messrs. John L. Johnson and W. E. Day sang hymns, favorites of the deceased, and which were sung at the funeral of Mrs. Bartlett, in March, 1917.

Comrades of Dr. Bartlett, members of Matt Starr Post, G. A. R., were the honorary bearers. They were Messrs. J. H. Rayhill, W. H. Jordan, John A. Schaub, C. Riggs Taylor, J. R. Kirkman, George Faul J. M. Swales and S. T. Maddox. Interment was in Diamond Grove cemetery, where the grave was made beautiful with flowers. These were cared for by Mrs Frank J. Heinl, Mrs. Harry M. Capps, Mrs. J. W. Hairgrove, Mrs. Horace H. Bancroft, Mrs. Annie Dickson. The bearers were Dr. J. W. Hairgrove, Dr. F. A. Norris, Frank J. Heinl, Harry M. Capps, William T. Capps, H. H. Bancroft, John F. Berry, of this city, and Judge H. H. Cowen, of Virden.

Dr. Rule had been asked to conduct a brief service and he spoke simply and beautifully, saying in part:

"One of the ancients wrote, 'Our days are swifter than a weaver's shuttle and are spent without hope.' We are better off than he was. Our days are truly swift. We live almost beyond the speed of our faith. Bue we have hope in Christ, who has brought Life and Immortality of Life. I have seen a recent picture of Hope: A woman with long robes girt about her, a star spangled banner in her hands, and the glint of victory in her eye, keeping to the front and smiling through the curtain of fire ahead, and beckoning into the unknown land beyond the war. That undiscovered country where the brotherhood of man lies dreaming, and the rule of human happiness is written in pure gold. Also to the land 'undimmed by sorrow and unhurt by time—the home of the soul.'

"Our brother, whom we honor today, has lived a great while, compared with the life of the ancient worthy, his life has been a thousand years. His chosen profession placed him in close touch with that never-to-be-forgotten band of heroes who maintained the principles of civil and religious liberty which are today the hope of the world.

"Again his chosen profession gave him opportunity to render a very great service to man. For it is the mission of the medical profession to do that which will aid in fulfilling the purpose for which the Great Physician came, namely, that men may have life, and have it more abundantly. His faith in Christ and his devotion to the church, related him to the forces which make for the kingdom of God in the world. His interest in community life and all the affairs of the world in general made him one of the toilers who ceaselessly take up the duties of every day and patiently, earnestly and conscientiously bring them to a righteous conclusion.

"Pure in his daily life, a thorough-going Christian gentleman, his consideration for others and his devotion to his family, together with the services he rendered, place him among those of whom it is said: 'Blessed are the dead, who die in the Lord. They rest from their labors, and their works do follow them.'

"One of the most beautiful sights in this world is a sunset, and the sun looks larger and has more of grandeur at that time than at other hours of the day. So, while we may know this is a house of mourning, still we know that hope is here, and as the sun looks larger at the close of the day, so a life well lived grows larger at its close to the friends and relatives. I have spoken briefly, but I am glad in the name of the Master to pay tribute to one who served so well during his life time and who has touched humanity at different points to the benefit of the world. So in this life, when sunset came—at the crossing of the bar—our friend has entered into eternal joy."

OLD JACKSONVILLE

NOTED SPOTS

By Ensley Moore

(Member Illinois State Historical Society)

Any one gazing over the sloping prairie, rolling toward the Mauvaisterre, where Jacksonville now stands, would, in 1818, have had small idea as to the history of what is now a well known spot in the east end of town—where Passavant Hospital is located.

Still less could James Jordan or Mary, his good wife, have known that, in four short years, they would have a large, double log cabin on that spot, and that, from his allowing the use of this house, in which to organize the first Methodist church in what was—in 1823—to be Morgan county, he would be remembered as "Father Jordan." But such was to be the first employment of that site by the white man.

As previously related in these sketches, James Jordan, and his wife, were presumably born in Virginia; he November 15, 1755, and she March 30, 1756. They are first definitely known as living at Union, eight miles from Charleston, S. C., and then in Goicenda, Illinois, whence they went to St. Charles county, Mo., and landing here in 1822. Mr. Jordan had been a Revolutionary soldier, and was a devoted Methodist. His grandson, William H., now a resident here, inherited his grandfather's patriotism, and served in the Union army, as did five other grandsons of "Father Jordan."

The accompanying picture was drawn to show the house of Mr. Jordan on the State Road, before Jacksonville was laid out. So it was the first house, so far as known, in what is now the corporate limits of this city,

Hardin.

Then the location passed into the possession of Col. John J. Hardin, of distinguished Kentucky birth, office holder in Illinois, and finally Member of Congress, going from that position to be Colonel of the 1st. Regiment of Illinois Volunteers in the Mexican War, and a hero, falling upon the field of Buena Vista.

Colonel Hardin built the big house of the east end of town on the lot where the Jordans had settled, offsetting the big house of Governor Duncan, in the west end.

There in his own hospitable mansion, to Mrs. Hardin "home they brought her warrier dead", when his comrades brought their commander back to her door. And the name of Hardin gave a glory to the place thereafter.

The sketch here given shows Colonel Hardin's residence, as it stood until the ground was needed for other uses.

Berean College.

Again the site was chosen for religious purposes when, about 1854, the Christian church took it to build their handsome edifice, known as Berean College, in which for about five years, their school was conducted. The accompanying illustration shows how the building looked. It is the part on the right of the picture, with the low tower.

Mrs. Eliza Ayers

But the land was still to be used for charitable and high purposes as it was bought in 1863, for an orphan Aslyum by Mrs. Eliza Ayers.

This lady, a native of New Jersey, came here in 1830, with her husband, David B. Ayers, bringing with them their sons Marshal P., and Augustus E. Ayers, our first and long time private bankers.

Mrs. Ayers was a devoted member of the First Presbyterian church, ever active and efficient in the work of that organization, a good part of her life having been given to aiding its Missionary foreign efforts. She was a lady of very bright mind, and of the greatest promptness and of excellent family," in Rahway, N. J., January 10, 1810, and entered into her reward January 16, 1896, thus almost attaining a century of years. Her mother, a delightful lady, Mrs. Freytag had also reached to a good old age —81 years.

So her attention having been drawn to the needs of orphans, her active thought found the former college as a suitable beginning of her enterprise. But this was not to be, as she concluded, and she gave the property to Dr. William A. Passavant, for a hospital, and upon that fine foundation has grown up our Passavant Memorial, monument to Mrs. Ayers' generosity.

Mrs. Ayers' good deeds were not confined to her direct church or missionary work, but she was one of the best friends and upbuilders of Jacksonville Female Academy.

Eliza Freytag Ayers "was born

A Favored Spot.

So it is seen that this site on the old "State Road" has been favored from its first settlement, vieing with that of Illinois College in the good uses to which it has been put.

Not the least of these was, when, after the burning of our State School for the Blind, in April, 1869, Mrs. Ayers opened her doors to the pupils and officers of that institution, as a temporary refuge and home.

It is easy for some people to find ways of doing good.

CHARGED WITH FORGERY

Lloyd Moore was arrested Thursday morning by Detective White and Patrolman McGinnis on the charge of forgery. The offender is a mere boy and it is probable that the act was committed more thru ignorance than with evil intent. His father is in the employ of R. K. DeFrates and the boy is said to have written a check and signed Mr. DeFrates' name to it. Moore was placed in the police station. He claims that another boy wrote the check.

LIEUT. EMIL MEYER FALLS 3,000 FEET

Former Jacksonville Boy Meets With Accident at Aviation Field—Escape Seems Almost Miracle.

Lieut. Emil Meyer, former Jacksonville high school football star, fell 3,000 feet when his aeroplane went into a tail spin and still lives to tell the tale. The accident occurred at the aviation field, near Fort Worth, Texas.

Lieut. Meyer enlisted soon after war was declared, being at that time a student at Millikin University. He entered the aviation section of the army and was commissioned a lieutenant.

He has been stationed at the aviation field near Fort Worth, Texas, and was serving as instructor at the field. Saturday morning he took up a cadet for instruction. After a number of stunts Lieut. Meyer started to execute a tail spin at an altitude of 3,000 feet. This is considered one of the most dangerous stunts that an aviator must learn.

The machine made a sheer drop and Lieut. Meyer was unable to right the plane and it cracked to the ground. Fortunately the machine fell flat and this probably saved the lives of the two men. Had it struck the earth head on, both probably would have met instant death

The cadet in the back seat escaped with only a few minor injuries. Lieut. Meyer suffered a badly sprained back and other injuries and is at the base hospital at the field. Unless complications set in he will recover.

The injured man's home is in Mt. Sterling. His father, F. D. Meyer, has received word from his son's wife, that she expects to bring him home as soon as he is able to travel.

BUSINESS DISTRICT PAVING NEARLY DONE

It was possible to again resume work on the business district paving yesterday and West Morgan street was practically completed. The only remaining street to be paved is West street between Morgan and State, which the contractor hopes may be completed today. With this out of the way the whole of the business district cedar block paving will be completed. Mr. Bretz will then turn his attention to South Main street where, as already mentioned, the brick paving between the street car rails has been finished. As government and state officials have approved this work and tarvia has been secured, there is reason to expect that the long hoped for pavement relief for South Main street is not far in the distance.

The new pavement in the business district, together with the widening done on some streets and the accompanying improvement of sidewalks, is making traffic conditions much better than was formerly true. The long period of work required for this paving has been very annoying to merchants and the public generally, but now these troubles are a matter of history and the people are beginning to appreciate the value of the repaving work.

Stork and Cupid Cunning Plotters

Many a New Home will Have a Little Sunbeam to Brighten it.

Cupid and the stork are held up to veneration; they are rated as cunning plotters to herald the coming of the little sunbeam to gladden the hearts and brighten the homes of a host of happy families.

There is a most remarkable preparation, known as Mother's Friend, which has been used by women for over half a century before the arrival of the stork. This is a penetrating external application for the abdomen and breast. By daily use throughout the waiting months, strain and tension is relieved. The muscles are made elastic and pliable so that when baby comes they expand with ease and the pain and danger at the crisis is naturally less.

Then, too, the nerves are not torn and drawn with that usual wrenching strain, and many distresses, such as nervousness, nausea, bearing down and streaching pains, are among the discomforts and debilitating experiences women who have used Mother's Friend say they have entirely escaped by the application of this time-honored remedy.

Thousands of women have used Mother's Friend and know from experience that it is one of the greatest contributions to healthy, happy motherhood.

Write to the Bradfield Regular Co., Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their "Motherhood Book". There is a wealth of instruction and comfort to be derived from reading this little book. It is plainly written just what every woman wants to know. Get a bottle of Mother's Friend from the druggist today, and thus fortify yourself against pain and discomfort.

MAY REMEDY GRIEF FROM OVERFLOW WATER

Since the building of the new pavement on West State street there has not been sufficient to trouble with the surface water at the corner of Prairie and State streets. The outlet to the sewer there has not been sufficient to carry off the water and after every very heavy rain the water frequently overflowed the curb stone and caused damage and annoyance to contiguous property. An effort has been made by the city to remedy this trouble by addition of a manhole, which is designed in accordance with a plan suggested by Public Engineer Henderson.

This manhole is so located that it is thought the surplus water will now be cared for. In the past water has come in such a rush that the one outlet has soon become clogged with rubbish. Now it is thought that the two outlets will provide a way of remedying the whole trouble and even with the onrush of water and sediment the outlet will probably take care of the flow.

Here is Speedy Relief From Kidney Troubles

"Foley Kidney Pills have done me a heap of good."—A. T. Bardlett, Brockton, Mass.

Some days it seems as if you can no longer bear the pain and misery you suffer from kidney and bladder trouble. The ache across your back grows worse with every move you make, and with every step you take. It not only robs you of all your strength, but it affects the other important organs of the body as well. Nervousness, headache, disordered stomach, liver trouble, bad eyesight, are only some of the conditions that follow kidney trouble.

Foley Kidney Pills help the sick weak kidneys to regain their normal healthy state and activity. When they are again able to do their work effectively, your system is no longer choked and blocked with poisonous waste matter. Your symptoms clear up, your weariness, pain, misery and weakness go away. Foley Kidney Pills can do you also "a heap of good."—J. A. Obermeyer's Drug Store.

TO REGISTER THREE THOUSAND NURSES

Young Women Called Upon to Join Army Nurses Reserve for Immediate Service.

Registration for the United States Army Nurses' Reserve by the local units of the Woman's Committee, State Council of Defense, will begin in all parts of the state Monday, July 29, and continue for two weeks. The quota of Illinois is 3,000; the entire number to be registered out the nation is 25,000.

Local units of the Woman's Committee, of which there are 1,900 in Illinois, will establish headquarters in schools, libraries or other convenient buildings in their communities, and will be urged by the Woman's Committee of the State Council of Defense to have present a woman physician, teacher, nurse and welfare worker, if possible, to answer questions and explain the work which will be required of the volunteers.

Registration cards and literature received from the Woman's Committee in Washington is being forwarded this week to all local units from the state headquarters in Chicago by Mrs. Frederick A. Dow, vice-chairman of the Woman's Committee of the State Council of Defense.

The young women of the state who are urged to register in the Student Nurses' Reserve must hold themselves in readiness until April 1, 1919, to go into training in civilian and army hospitals.

There will be two types of service—preferred and deferred. In the first class will be registered those who can go immediately to any hospital where they are needed, though they may state their preference and will be assigned there if possible. In the deferred class, the candidate pledges herself to go into service near home or in specified hospitals. These will be called upon only after the preferred class is exhausted.

Women will be given an opportunity to enroll in any one of three ways. They may pledge themselves only for civilian hospitals; only for the Army Nursing School, recently established, with branch schools in selected military hospitals; or for both. Those of superior qualifications will be given the preference.

Many of the hospitals have offered to give advanced standing of from six months to a year to young women who are college graduates, and who have had sufficient scientific training. The course normally takes three years, never less than two.

Student nurses receive board, lodging and tuition free at practically every training school, of which there are 1,579 in the country, and in most cases they receive a small remuneration to cover books and uniforms. Nobody will be assigned to any school whose conditions of training are not approved by the State Board of Examiners.

The need for a reserve of student nurses is imperative on account of the large number of trained women who have been called to service abroad, and the further large number which will be needed within the next few months. Student nurses can take charge of all cases of minor illness, relieving trained women for severe cases and for supervision.

It is the hope of the Woman's Committee that Illinois will register her entire quota of 3,000 in the preferred class, with a surplus of deferred class registrants equally large.

CHEERING WAR NEWS BREAKS CORN MARKET
CHICAGO, July 25.—Cheering war news had much to do with sharp breaks today in corn. The market closed 3¼ to 3⅞c net lower with August $1.51¾ to $1.52 and September $1.52½ to $1.52¾. Oats lost ⅜ to 1⅛c and provisions 5c to 25c.

Some renewal of peace gossip tended to increase corn selling near the end of the day as did reports of an excellent crop outlook. Right from the outset moreover bears held the advantage owing to failure of frost predictions in territory south of the Canadian bonudary.

Oats followed corn. Advices of damage by frost in the Canadian northwest received but little notice. Lower values of hogs and corn made provisions descend.

WAR NEWS HAS LITTLE EFFECT ON STOCKS
NEW YORK, July 25.—Earlier war news exercised little effect on the stock market and latest peace rumors today excited only languid interest in well informed banking circles. As usual the advance concentrated in such leaders as United States steel, Reading and some of the more popular industrials and equipments, steels extreme gain of 1⅝ was only slightly shaded and Reading retained all but a fraction of its two point advance. Shippings, oils, Baldwin Locomotive, Industrial Alcohol and the tobacco group recorded gross gains of 1 to 2½ points, altho Sumatra Tobacco repeated its recent unstable course, despite the proposed 15 per cent stock dividend.

Rails as a class were again relegated to the back kround, St. Paul common and preferred reacting 1½ to 2 points, but making up their loss on announcement of further delay by the directors respecting the dividends. Sales 290,000 shares.

Bonds of all classes were irregular, but hardened with liberty issues at the close. Total sales (par value) $5,175,000.

WORD "KHAKI" HAS INTERESTING ORIGIN

Is East Indian Word—Used to Designate Color of Uniforms of British Army in India.

Perhaps there is no other word being used by the American public more today than the word "khaki" and it also is doubtlessly true that few know the origin and meaning of the word as well as the correct pronounciation of it.

Thru the courtesy of Henry Frisch of Myers Brothers the following clipping is presented from the Clothiers Bulletin which gives the history of the word.

"Khaki (pronounced kar-key, with the accent on the second syllable) is an East Indian word meaning dust color, or earth color. In the dry season in India the fields and vegetation turn brown and the roads are heavy with dust which, carried by the winds, soon covers the foliage of trees and shrubbery, so that the whole landscape presents a somber aspect in one brown, dust-colored hue.

"In the earlier days of the British occupation of India the British troops wore white cotton or duck uniforms in the hot weather of the dry season, but these stood out so plainly against the prevailing dust color of the roads and surrounding country as to make their wearers distinct targets for the bush-whacking snipers of the enemy tribesmen. Learning from bitter experience the necessity for making themselves less conspicuous, the soldiers dipped their uniforms in muddy pools and streams to give them the same color as the background against which they must appear. This showed good results in reducing the casualty lists, and dust-colored, or 'khaki' nuiforms gradually replaced the white uniforms with colored trimmings for summer service, and later for the same reasons a similar color was also adopted for the winter field or 'fighting' uniforms of the British Army.

"All of the great nations have now adopted 'khaki' or other dull-colored uniforms for their troops in the field."—From "Army and Navy Uniforms and Insignia" (Stokes), by Col. Dion Williams.

Y. M. C. A. IN NEW DRIVE FOR OVERSEAS WORKERS

Effort Is Being Made to Recruit Approximately 4,000 Business and Professional Men for Oversea Duty During the Summer —First Need Is for Men Who Are Natural Leaders.

Renewed appeals from General Pershing and General Foch, together with the plans of the government at Washington to have nearly 1,500,000 in France by September, have resulted in a new drive by the National War work Council of the Y. M. C. A., to recruit approximately 4,000 business and professional men for overseas duty during the summer. New York City has accepted a quota of 1,000 men above draft age to serve the soldiers abroad in red triangle huts and other Y. M. C. A. recruiting organizations over the country are making an effort to enlist the services of 3,000 other men.

Jobs Are Not Small.

"The men most needed here are the men most needed in France today," says an announcement received here today by J. S. Findley, of the local Young Men's Christian Association. "The Y. M. C. A. is basing its appeal for men on the ground that there is no job in France too small for the biggest man in any American community. The Y. M. C. A. workers in France have had to become a part of the military machine. General Pershing relies upon the association to keep up the morale of the troops, so that with military training they may become the most efficient fighting machines that ever went into active war service.

"First of all, there is a pressing demand for men who are natural leaders, men who are real men, good mixers and capable of exerting the proper influence. These leaders generally are assigned as hut secretaries, in which position they will require a versatility almost inconceivable. They must be above the fighting age, but must be able to undergo a searching physical examination, as does the man admitted to the combat branches of the service. Ambassador Sharp, in a recent appeal for more workers, emphasized the fact that many were breaking under the terrific strain.

At the Battle Front.

"That is the answer to those who regard the Y. M. C. A. as a paradise for pacifists, a refuge for slackers. We can use none of them in our service. At least one in eight or ten of our workers in France is in the shell zone. Recent despatches have told of the gassing of our workers, of their death or serious injury caused by busting shrapnel. The uniform of the red triangle is not for the man who does not want to go to war. It is the uniform that every 'middle aged' man should aspire to wear. Although it gives him no military rank, it gives him the opportunity for patriotic service and for distinction —many 'Y' workers in France have already been cited for bravery."

Further fields of usefulness require experts in sports and education, and motor mechanics. Hundreds of men with a capacity for leadership in mass athletics are needed. Men who drive their own automobiles are being recruited for the motor transport service in France. Prominent educators are enlisting for the great Khaki college that General Pershing has authorized in conjunction with the training in the concentration camps back of the western front.

The War Personnel Board of the Central Military Department comprising fifteen middle western states, reached its high mark in recruiting men and women for Y. M. C. A. service in June, when a total of 747 men and women were enrolled. This was considered a typical month in recruiting. Of this number 495 men and 23 women were assigned to overseas luty. The number enlisted for work in the home camp was 229 men. Illinois and Chicago took the lead in recruiting, with a total of 144 men and women, assigned to foreign and domestic duty. Ohio followed with 83 men and women and Iowa took third place, with 73 recruits. Indiana and Kentucky tied for fourth place, with 69 recruits from each state. Other states represented in a table of totals for recruiting just received are as follows: Colorado, 34; Kansas, 37; Michigan, 41; Minnesota, 64; Missoouri, 52; Nebraska, 25; North Dakota, 15; South Dakota, 4; Wisconsin, 34; Canada, 3.

RED CROSS SUBSCRIPTIONS

Many subscribers to the Red Cross fund failed to pay the amounts due July 1. The second installment is due August 1. All subscribers are most urgently requested to make both payments at once at the Elliott State bank. The national organization has called for funds from the Morgan county chapter, which are not available because of failure of subscribers to act with promptness. The increased activity at the war front is making still heavier demand upon the Red Cross and subscribers can give no better aid than by immediately paying subscriptions due.

LOCAL PEOPLE IN TOUR OF CAMPS.

A party of Jacksonville people has recently returned from an interesting trip which took them to Camp Grant, Great Lakes Naval Training station and the aviation field at Rantoul. The party included Mr. and Mrs. Felix E. Farrell, Mrs. C. A. Barnes, Mrs. Garm Norbury, Miss Dorothy Farrell and James Barnes. The visitors spent a day at Starved Rock and from there went to Camp Grant. There they met Major Joseph A. Capps and saw Capt. W. T. Harmon's company at practice at the rifle range. The day following they drove to the home of Lieut. and Mrs. A. B. Applebee at Libertyville, a few miles from the Great Lakes Station. With Lieut. Applebee as an escort the Jacksonville people had unusual opportunity not only for viewing the various department at the Great Lakes station, but also at Ft. Sheridan training camp.

On the journey home they stopped at Rantoul aviation field and witnessed both day and night flying. It was a trip that the members of the party most thoroly enjoyed and they came back home with increased appreciation of the extensive war time preparations in which the government is engaged.

WOMEN MAKING SHELLS FOR BRITISH AMRY

Installation of Single Process Machines Makes It Possible for Women to Do Complicated Work Previously Only Accomplished By Skilled Men—Piece Work Is System Used.

Manchester, England, July— (Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—The women of England are making the shells with which the British army is beating back the enemy, and are doing the work at an average pay equivalent to $10 a week.

The managing director of a big naval construction works here is unable to employ domestic servants because all the women formerly employed as servants have gone to work in shell factories.

When the factory men were called to the colors, women quietly stepped into their places. The vast majority of the women had neither skill nor training in munitions work, but the factory engineers by installing what is known as single process machines made it possible for the women to do the complicated work that previously only skilled men had been able to accomplish.

In a week or ten days a woman learns how to operate a single process machine. She does her work efficiently and faithfully. Recently in one factory the women made 31,000 4.5 inch shells in eighteen weeks and not a flaw could be found in any shell.

Many of the women workers before the war were operatives in plants for textile manufacture, the chief industry in this region. In peace time their wages averaged about the equivalent of five dollars a week. Now the average is well over ten dollars and ,in exceptional cases, fifteen and more.

Work at Night.

In some factories women work three shifts of eight hours rotating each week. Their employers say that they are not affected by the strain of night work. A large number of the women are doing the hardest kind of manual work.

Piece work is the system used in most of the shell factories and the managers say that the introduction of piece work increased the output to an amazing degree.

"Women," one of the managers commented, 'are more competitive than men workers. Men will work up to a certain point and stop, either because they are indifferent and easily satisfied with the amount of their earnings or because their mates would protest. On the other hand, women do not seem to care what their mates think or say. Each is out for herself."

He pointed to a machine where a girl was working at a great rate of speed. "That young women," he went on, "doubtless wants a new ribbon for her hair, and she is going to make the shop pay for it."

The minimum wage paid to women in shell factories where the piecework system is in effect is about $7.50 a week, but unless a girl proves herself capable of making at least $9 a week she is not regarded as a good worker It is not not uncomon for a particularly intelligent and energetic woman to draw each week from $17 to $20.

Jacksonville Council No. 5, R. & S. M., will hold stated assembly this evening at 7:30 o'clock. Work. Geo. T. Haigh, T. I. M.

JEWS PROTEST AGAINST PROPOSED LAWS

London, July — The jews of Rumania have cabled a request to the American Zionist Organization to petition President Wilson to bring his influence to bear against the enactment by the Rumanian capital of contemplated laws which, they say, will result in depriving them of the few remaining rights still left to them.

The proposed laws provide that naturalization shall be denied to any person both of whose parents have not been in Rumania. This, they asert would prevent at least two thirds of the Jews of Rumania from receiving naturalization papers. These laws are to be enacted in accordance with the terms of the German Peace Treaty.

OUR FIRST ARMY CORPS COMMANDER.

Washington, July 25.—"A soldier of the type found in fiction of knighthood days; gentle, and rare graces, and yet one of the toughest propositions in the field that the country has ever known."

Such is the description given by an army associate of Major General Hunter Liggett, the field commander of the first American army corps, in the language of the street, has been giving the Germans in their recent big drive "all that was coming to them."

Relatively few Americans ever heard of Hunter Liggett, or remembered ever hearing of him, until his name suddenly loomed big in the news a short time ago as commander of the first army corps organized in France—the force that has done its full share of the hard fighting in blocking the road of the Huns to Paris.

Yet ever since he came out of West Point, when 22 years of age Gen. Liggett has been living and fighting battles that fit him preeminently to deal with the kaiser's hordes. He made an excellent record in the Spanish-American war, both in Cuba and the Phillipines. Later he displayed brains as well as bravery in handling affairs along a section of the Mexican border, when Villa was at the apex of his career and war between the United States and Mexico seemed imminent. It was for all these things that President Wilson promoted him to the rank of major-general and sent him over to France as right hand man to General Pershing.

"Liggett luck" is a phrase often heard among army officers when the name of the now famous commander has been mentioned. The phrase is not used to belittle Gen. Liggett's achievements, but to indicate faith that he will always "get there" in the future as in the past. When he was Major Liggett he was in command of a battalion that a leaky transport carried, or tried to carry, to the Philippines. When the ship was all but sinking, help reached it and saved those on board.

An eye witness has told how the soldiers, "waist-deep in the water of the hold were pumping and bailing for dear life, and right in the midst of them, giving grom, determined aid as well as direction, stood a tall, powerful man, with the jaw of a snapping turtle and the obvious disposition of one who would not unduly hurry if he was about to catch the last train for heaven." That officer was Maj. Liggett, and he won promotion for his work in the next two years among the Moros. Another officer who was engaged in the same task at the same time was Col. John J. Pershing. The two formed a lasting friendship at that time, and it is extremely probable that the selection of Gen Liggett for his present command was due to a personal request from Gen. Pershing, who naturally desired that his chief aid in France should be an officer with whose capabilities he was already acquainted.

The reputation achieved by Maj. Liggett in the Philippines led to his appointment, following his return to the United States, to become president of the War College in Washington.

Reading, Pa., was Gen. Liggett's birthplace. After receiving the customary public school training he was appointed to the United States Military Academy and was graduated in the class of 1879. During the 40 years of his military career his service has been mainly with the infantry army. He attained the rank of colonel in 1911, and the next year was made a brigadier general. In 1917 he was given the major-generalship made vacant by the death of Maj. Gen. Frederick Funston. This rank he held when the call to France came, the call that has now made him rank next to Gen Pershing there.

It is an open secret that the Germans entertain a strong ambition to deliver a crushing blow at the Americans. Evidence of this fact has been afforded by the developments of the past two weeks. The way in which the first American field army has met the onslaught of the Huns has served to turn the spot light on the American commander. And it is a safe bet that the world will hear a great deal more of Hunter Liggett before the war is ended.
